Center Spotlight

Jain Society of Greater Detroit

In this issue, it is fitting that for our first Center Spotlight features the Jain Society of Greater Detroit (JSGD) which is the proud host of this year's 2013 JAINA Convention. Founded in 1975, JSGD started with just 50 families committed to the practice of Jain values and celebration of Jain culture.

These early pioneers helped establish a center which now serves nearly 500 community members. If you are in the Detroit area or simply passing through, a visit to JSGD is sure to leave your spirit just a little lighter. Be sure to see their calendar for a fun event to attend.
